

Putting Community Sentences on the Map

Today the Make Justice Work community sentence map has gone live, providing a comprehensive catalogue of projects, programmes and initiatives across England and Wales. To access this online resource please click here.

The map will be regularly updated so if you are aware of a community sentence project in your area that is not currently included on the map please email us at info@makejusticework.org.uk

We hope this new resource will be a valuable and helpful tool for professionals in the criminal justice arena, victims of crime, magistrates, the media and the general public in helping to raise the profile of community sentences.

Improving public confidence in the effectiveness and value of community is vitally important and the community sentence map is one way to try and achieve this.
